LOYOLA TO HOST REPUBLIC OF CHINA TABLE TENNIS EXPERTS

Loyola's Department of Physical Education and Athletics announced that the College will host on Wednesday, October 13th, Miss Lin Hsi Meng and Mr. Chuang Chia Fu, two of the top table tennis experts in the world.

The players are both former Republic of China Champions and are currently on a world-wide tour. Tomorrow, they will demonstrate their talents in the Loyola Gymnasium at 3:30 P.M. The public is invited. The program will include competition with Loyola's and the Province of Quebec's best players.

Ed Enos, Loyola's Director of Physical Education and Athletics, stated: "The news that the delegates from Peking will perform on our Campus is being received enthusiastically by Montrealers. The competition against our players, I know, will be conducted in the same spirit of internationalism and friendliness that was so apparent when the Canadian and American Teams toured Mainland China."

The visit marks the third appearance by international teams in the Loyola Sports Complex. In 1968, Loyola hosted the Australian, and last year the Yugoslavian National Basketball Teams.

Doors will be open at 2:30 P.M. tomorrow at Loyola. Seating will be on a first come basis. Prior to the arrival of the Chinese, outstanding players from Quebec will compete in preliminary play.
